Season Card Collection

1. Project Goal

Build an affordable, season-by-season historical record of a baseball team using baseball cards. The collection highlights the players who contributed to each season, including obscure and forgotten players.

2. Season Roster

Each season includes 27 player slots:

- Position players (18): The 18 eligible players with the most games played for the team during that regular season.
- Pitchers (9): The nine eligible pitchers with the most innings pitched for the team during that regular season.

Players are ranked separately within each category. A player may qualify in both categories if they meet the applicable criteria.

3. Player Eligibility & Rankings

- Regular-season statistics are only used. Postseason stats are excluded.
- Count only statistics accumulated with the team during the season being documented.
- For players who appeared for multiple teams, use only their statistics with the team being documented.
- Rank position players by games played, highest to lowest. Break ties by plate appearances (PA).
- Rank pitchers by innings pitched, highest to lowest. Break ties by strikeouts (SO).
- Record necessary exceptions or corrections in the master spreadsheet, with supporting sources where possible.
- If a manager card is found for that season, store it as well (back of page 3).

4. Card Selection

Card selection preferences, in order of priority:

1. Card year: Prefer a card released in the same or following calendar year. For example, use a 1971 or 1970 card for the 1970 season.
2. Uniform: Always prefer cards showing the player in the team's uniform.
3. Statistics: Always prefer cards displaying statistics from the season being documented.
4. Variety: Avoid reusing the same physical card for the same player across multiple seasons.

However, any manufacturer, set, card type, or release year is acceptable when a preferred card cannot be found.

Leave a slot unfilled until a suitable card is found.

5. Binder Organization

Each season contains three nine-card sections:

- Page 1: Position players ranked 1–9.
- Page 2: Position players ranked 10–18.
- Page 3: Pitchers ranked 1–9.

Arrange cards in the same order as the season checklist, reading left to right and then top to bottom.

A1	A2	A3
B1	B2	B3
C1	C2	C3

Each season should follow the same layout. For a more compact option, use both sides of a binder sheet for both position player lists.
